

DOCTORS DISAGREE AT THE KEFF TRIAL

Military Surgeon Says Yuschinsky Boy Was Not Killed for Blood.

HEART TAKEN FROM BODY

All of Dozen Physicians Called Agree There Were Two Murderers.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.
Keff, Oct. 29.—The medical experts called to testify to-day at the trial of Mendel Bells, the Jew accused of having murdered the Christian boy Yuschinsky to obtain Christian blood for ritualistic purposes, were in direct conflict regarding the motive for the murder.

More than a dozen physicians were ready to take the stand. Twenty-one questions were asked, all with the object of bringing out whether the wounds on the boy's body were inflicted for the purpose of drawing blood or solely for the purpose of killing him.

Dr. Kosoroff and Tutinoff, for the prosecution, held that the wounds were not mortal, that the boy lived for a quarter of an hour, bleeding profusely, and that he was finally stabbed through the heart, the object of the murderers obviously being to draw his blood and inflict pain.

Dr. Kadian and Pavloff, for the defense, admitted that the wounds found in the body of the boy were not mortal, but that they were made for the purpose of drawing blood.

All the experts agreed that there were two murderers.

BONAR LAW ALSO SPEAKS

Conservative Leader Says Home Rule Question Rests With the People.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Oct. 29.—Bonar Law, leader of the Conservatives in the House of Commons, and Sir Edward Carson, leader of the Unionist movement, replied to the Ladybank speech of Premier Asquith on the home rule question at a meeting here to-night.

Bonar Law said that if the Premier meant to invite the Unionist leaders to exchange views and suggestions with the Liberals they would respond that they would consider carefully any proposals with a real desire for an agreement. This, he said, was one possible course. Another was, quoting Mr. Redmond's phrase, "Full steam ahead," upon which the Unionist leaders' verdict was: "That was madness!"

ENVOYS SAY U. S. MUST INTERVENE

outcome will not be regarded as agreeable to the Administration in Washington.

The change will make it possible for Huerta to become eligible for election to the Presidency without giving up his absolute hold on Mexico in the interim, because it is the understanding that if he steps down to his old position of commander in chief of the Mexican army, this office will be held by a person as Gen. Huerta carries with it virtual rule over Mexico, especially if the Presidency is held by a man as subservient to Huerta as Gen. Blanquet is reported to be.

The shift is expected to come about by means of a declaration that the Huerta-Blanquet pact received the most votes in the election held on Sunday and that a sufficient number of precincts were heard from to make the election valid.

The Huerta votes will be declared null and void because of the constitutional prohibition against a provisional President succeeding himself in the Presidency. The prohibition invoked against Huerta does not apply, however, according to Gen. Huerta, as Vice-President of Foreign Affairs, to the Vice-Presidency, so that Blanquet can be declared elected to that office.

WARSHIPS OFF FOR MEXICO.

U. S. to Have Seven Battleships on East Coast.

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 29.—Four United States warships left Hampton Roads at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Mexico. They were the Rhode Island, Nebraska, Virginia and Nevada. These ships constitute the third division of the Atlantic fleet and are under the command of Rear Admiral Clifford Housh. He has his flag on the Rhode Island.

Before their departure the crews of the ships were brought ashore this morning and taken through a real warlike drill. A wireless station was erected on shore in front of the Chamberlain Hotel and messages were exchanged between the officers in charge of the landing force and Rear Admiral Housh on the battleship Rhode Island.

The wireless worked perfectly and in case it is necessary for American sailors to land at Vera Cruz a plant will be erected there to keep the commandant of the American ships informed of what is going on.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The despatch of four additional ships to Mexico was ordered, mainly in order that the three battleships now on the east coast of Mexico might be relieved of duty in the tropics. The change at this time is due to a desire to avoid giving Huerta any ground for complaint that the vessels in Mexican waters had remained longer than the period of six months, for which the Mexican Congress voted for permission for them to stay. This expired on October 27, but no complaint has yet come from Huerta, despite his threats some weeks ago.

The impression prevails here, however, that the ships now in Vera Cruz and Tampico will remain there indefinitely, so that the effect of the maneuver will be to more than double the number of vessels in Mexican waters on the Atlantic side. It is admitted that the vessels now there will not return if the situation in Mexico seems to indicate that the United States may have to use force. Evidence of such indications are thought to be increasing.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

HAVANA, Oct. 29.—The commander of the Mexican gunboat Zaragoza, which has on board the members of the Mexican commission to Japan, who returned from Mexico to-day from Gen. Diaz, received orders to-day from Gen. Huerta to return to Vera Cruz with the commissioners.
